DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: the species represent the claimed erythropoietin variant wherein the variant comprises a cysteine residue inserted;

- (a) prior to the first amino acid of the protein;
- (b) after the last amino acid of the protein;

or between two amino acids in one of the following regions;

- (c) the A-B loop;
- (d) the B-C loop;
- (e) the C-D loop;
- (f) the (f1) 1st or (f2) last 3 residues of helix A;
- (g) the (g1) 1st or (g2) last 3 residues of helix B;
- (h) the (h1) 1st or (h2) last 3 residues of helix C;
- (i) the (i1) 1st or (i2) last 3 residues of helix D;
- (j) the amino acids preceding helix A; or
- (k) the amino acids following helix D;

or between two of these regions as indicated in claims 36-43.

I.e., the Applicant may elect one of (a)-(k) or the embodiments described in one of claims 36-43.

2. The species are independent or distinct because they represent related inventions. Related inventions are distinct if the inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants; and the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, each of the claimed species are mutually exclusive, and comprises a modified protein wherein the protein is modified in a different region or position- thereby reading on modified proteins with materially different designs.

3. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 1648

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, as having a different classifications, and because the literature and sequence searches required for any one of the groups is not required for the others, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
